

I started importing Himalayan Crystal Salt products five years ago. I had flown to Switzerland to visit my daughter and on the first morning she handed me a glass of water and asked me to drink it. Instantly I felt “energized”. The sole (brine), which is a combination of crystal salt and water, eliminated jet lag, my bowel movements were normal and my skin cleared up. I have travelled many times to Europe but this trip was definitely energized.

Upon arriving back to Canada and no luck finding the Himalayan Crystal Salt, I decided to start my own business: Heartfeltliving® Health Products Incorporated was born. My husband and I have been drinking the “sole” each morning with uplifting healthy results. The Himalayan Crystal Salt is an absolutely natural, unpolluted product. It is a simple addition to your day, your health, your life.

I am deeply grateful I discovered the courage and belief within, to be in business and to share natural products that improve health, well being and the environment. Experiencing the positive effects of the Himalayan Crystal Salt and then creating my business is definitely a Heartfelt experience, I believe and share 100%.
